American Tennis Star Reaches Semi Final

Wimbledon, June 37 (By the A. P.).—
Francis T. Hunter, the American tennis star, reached the semi-final in the British turf court tennis championship tournament here today by defeating Major Cecil Campbell, the Irish champion of 1905, by 6-2, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4. He next will meet B. I. C. Norton of South Africa, who entered the semi-final round today by eliminating Colonel Mayes of Canada by 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mailory, the American singles champion, was not so fortunate as Hunter. She went down to defeat at the hands of another American, Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, 6-6, 6-4. The cooler weather today proved a great boon to the players, several of whom showed marked exhaustion as a result of the recent beat wave.

The American players today shared the chief interest with Manuel Alonso, the Spanish champion, who defeated the leading English hope, Major A. R. F. Kingscote, 6-1, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2. Kingscote's defeat was the surprise of the day, as he had generally been regarded as the likeliest challenger of William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, the worlds champion, who himself in the newspaper of London expressed that opinion.

Are Mailory created a great sensation.

The heroine of the match, Miss Howkins, made her first appearance on the center rourt loday. Tilden played hard low volleys straight at her when she was at the New York and Chicago. In addition, net and time and again she scored off him with sever volleying. She actually carried her partner through the severage.

New York, June 27.—The Dempsey-Carpentier bout has made New York's housing problem even more acute. Five days before the bout, the vanwho himself in the newspaper of London expressed that opinion.

Tiden and Mrs. Mallory, together with Arnold Jones of Providence, R. I., and Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston were eliminated today from the mixed doubles, the former pair by Max Woesnam and Miss E. M. Howkins of England by 3-5, 6-2, 3-7, and the latter pair by Rusma Swami of India and Mrs. O'Nell of England 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

The match between Mrs. Mallory and Miss Ryan was exciting, the former, despite her defeat, playing a finer game than ever before in England. Throughout the match Mrs. Mallory played from the back of the court, while Miss Ryan frequently made incursions to the net. Mrs. Mallory showed exceptional foot speed and the cleverest anticipation, often retrieving Miss Ryan's deadly drop shots and making ace points.

The defeat of William T. Tilden and Mrs. Mallory created a great sensation. The beroine of the match Miss Howkins.
